My soul longeth, yea even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God.

Blessed are they that dwell in Thy house, they will be still praising Thee.

They go from strength to strength, till all of them in Zion appeareth before God.

Sunday Afternoon—Continued

Anthem—"A New Year's Hymn" . . . . . Arthur Nevin

(Words by Robert P. Nevin)

Fleeting, fleeting, ah, how fleeting,
With a footfall lightly sped,
O'er the living, by the dead—
Wearied never, hastening ever,
Time pursues his silent tread.

Still retreating, still retreating,
Through the years which God hath giv'n,
Borne along, our lives are driv'n,
Pausing never, passing ever,
Like the drifting clouds of Heav'n.

Parting, meeting—parting, meeting—
Fitful tides the heart doth know,
Springs of joy and wells of woe—
Parting never, mingling ever,
One their current as they flow.

Thee entreating, thee entreating,
Hear, O Lord, we now implore;
May we claim, life's changes o'er,—
Ending never, spending ever,
Blest eternity, our dow'r.

Response—Nunc Dimittis . . . . . Ethelbert Nevin

Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace; according to thy word.

For mine eyes have seen thy salvation, which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

To be a light to lighten the gentiles; and to be the glory of thy people Israel.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost; as it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen.

Hymn 129—"Abide With Me"

Sunday Evening—Continued

Anthem—"What Are These That Are Arrayed in White Robes?" . . . . . Stainer

What are these that are arrayed in white robes, and whence came they?

These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Therefore are they before the throne of God and serve him day and night in his temple.

They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters; and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

Address—"Pastorate of Dr. Wm. O. Campbell"
DR. CAMPBELL

Anthem—"Lovely Appear"—from the Redemption . . . Gounod

Lovely appear over the mountains,

The feet of them that preach, and bring good news of peace.

Ye mountains, ye perpetual hills, bow ye down,

Over the barren wastes, shall flowers now have possession.

Dark shades of ancient days, full of hate and oppression,

In the brightness of joy fade away, and are gone.

In this age, truly blest more than ages preceding,

Shall the corn never fail from the plentiful ground;

Under the shining sky shall the lambs gaily bound,

Void of fear, undisturbed, shall they be feeding.

Then timorous birds, e'en the turtle dove meek,

Shall not fear any more the hawk's merciless beak.

Prayer

Hymn 468—"Crown Him With Many Crowns"

Organ Postlude—"Festival March" . . . . . Best
